YOUR PASSION MAKES STARK COUNTY A BETTER PLACE.

This year, perhaps more than ever, the passion in our community continues to be a shining light during dark times. When you support the causes you are passionate about, your generosity directly impacts Stark County—today, tomorrow and forever.

A NOTE FROM OUR PRESIDENT AND CEO

2020 HAS BEEN A YEAR WE WON'T FORGET. AT LEAST I KNOW I WON'T.

As I reflect on this year, I think about the spread of COVID-19 and how the pandemic has impacted the residents of our community. I also think about hard conversations centered on race, the constant feeling of uncertainty and Zoom fatigue.

This year has certainly been challenging, but it hasn't been all doom and gloom.

In our community, there have been dozens of bright spots. Local organizations pivoted their programs and services quickly to serve those in need, foundations joined together to mobilize emergency COVID-19 relief, thoughtful residents like you stepped in to help one another during challenging times and people from all walks of life came together virtually to brainstorm ways to improve racial equity in Stark County during our recent THINKBIG. While there's still work to be done, I'm encouraged by our community's resiliency, dedication and passion.

Before the unexpected year of 2020, Stark Community Foundation had a record-breaking year in 2019. We collectively awarded $13.1 million in grants and raised $16.8 million in new and planned gifts, making it the largest grantmaking year and third highest fundraising year in Foundation history. What a testament to our community's giving spirit!

This year's Annual Report is unique in that it combines an overview of 2019 and highlights our community's response to COVID-19 in 2020. Stark Community Foundation is fortunate to be able to play a pivotal role in supporting our community through this crisis because of you – our generous family of donors – who make our work possible. Thank you for your continued support, and stay healthy.

Mark J. Samolczyk

COVID-19 RESPONSE

HELPING OUR COMMUNITY'S MOST VULNERABLE WHEN THEY NEED IT MOST

Stark Community Foundation, like most foundations across the country, spent the majority of 2020 responding to the immediate, ever-changing needs caused by COVID-19. We quickly shifted our focus to help local organizations continue to provide critical services to our community's most vulnerable and educate our family of donors about how our community has been impacted and how they can help.

EMERGENCY RELIEF

PHILANTHROPIC COLLABORATIVE

Once COVID-19 made its way to Stark County, Stark Community Foundation joined forces with the Sisters of Charity Foundation of Canton and other local foundations to mobilize emergency relief to area organizations. Over the course of nine weeks, the collaborative awarded $1.46 million to more than 30 organizations providing food, childcare, mental health services, shelter and homebound senior assistance.

FLEXIBLE FUNDING

IMMEDIATE IMPACT ALERT FUND

In mid-March, Stark Community Foundation's Immediate Impact Alert Fund was activated. This flexible funding source allows the Foundation, other local foundations and community members to immediately respond during times of critical need. All monies contributed to the Immediate Impact Alert Fund by the local community are being used to support area organizations affected by COVID-19. To date, nearly $700,000 has been awarded from the fund.

SMALL BUSINESS SUPPORT

FAITH IN STARK FUND

A group of local faith-based leaders, business partners and philanthropic organizations came together to provide hope and stability to small businesses in Stark County through a community-wide effort called Faith in Stark. Coordinated by Strengthening Stark, the Faith in Stark Fund at Stark Community Foundation provided more than $500,000 in one-time grants to small businesses negatively impacted by COVID-19.

INFORMATIVE VIDEOS

STRAIGHT FROM STARK

In an effort to educate our community on how local organizations were responding to the challenges of COVID-19, Stark Community Foundation launched Straight from Stark, a weekly video series. Straight from Stark allows residents to hear directly from dynamic leaders about how their organizations are creatively continuing their services and making a difference in Stark County.

STARK COMMUNITY FOUNDATION'S

PARTNERING WITH DONORS TO HELP THEM ACHIEVE THEIR CHARITABLE GOALS

A NOTE FROM OUR VP OF ADVANCEMENT

At Stark Community Foundation, it's our passion to help you support yours.

For nearly 60 years, we've had the privilege of partnering with individuals, families, businesses and organizations in our community to establish charitable funds that will support their philanthropic passions today, tomorrow and forever. Whether it's the performing arts, animal rights, empowering youth or making a college education a reality for students, our staff helps donors turn their passion into action.

Each charitable fund created through Stark Community Foundation is unique and begins with a passionate donor with a personal story. We'll share some of these personal stories with you in this year's Annual Report. In the ensuing pages, you'll learn about why one family is honoring a loved one through a memorial fund, how a group of local churches are using the proceeds from the sale of a building to support our community and how a grantmaking foundation is carrying on its founders' legacy. You'll also read about 54 charitable funds – all with passion and purpose – that were established from July 1, 2019 through June 30, 2020.

As you read this year's report, I encourage you to think about what you are most passionate about and consider, if you haven't already, supporting your philanthropic passions in perpetuity through your own charitable fund.

GRIEVING TO GIVING

ANDREW HOFFMAN MEMORIAL FUND

When Andrew "Andy" Hoffman passed away unexpectedly on March 25, 2017, he left his loved ones with vivid memories of his extraordinary selflessness, contagious positivity, competitive spirit, adventurous soul and inspirational persona.

"HE DID EVERYTHING TO THE EXTREME AND USUALLY SUCCEEDED," recalled his mother, Ellen. "Even when he was a little kid, he was like that. He couldn't just skateboard, he needed to learn how to skate down handrails and show off his tricks. He was wired that way."

Andy not only was competitive and energetic, he was personable and kind.

Making friends came easy to Andy because he was outgoing, likeable and had a great sense of humor. He was one of those guys that people naturally gravitated toward, magnetic in a sense. He could strike up a conversation with anyone, and soon they would be talking and laughing like old friends. He eventually got the nickname "Cheese" because he was always smiling from ear to ear.

"He might have been a small kid, but he had a huge personality and heart," Ellen added. "He would do anything for anyone."

He often sought out students who were shy or unpopular to make sure they felt included. When local individuals and families fell on hard times, Andy would lend a helping hand by dropping off food. Once while in an AT&T store, he helped a mother with two special needs children purchase a cell phone.

In high school, Andy was a member of Hoover High School's soccer, lacrosse and swim teams. To this day, coaches and teammates remember how Andy would leave notes of encouragement for his teammates before a big sporting event. He was known for inspiring confidence in people that they didn't have in themselves.

Andrew Hoffman

After graduating in 2007, he continued his academic and athletic career at Wittenberg University where he studied physics and mathematics while playing soccer. Andy later earned a master's degree in aerospace engineering from the University of Cincinnati.

His accomplished engineering career led him to working on Department of Defense contracts in New Jersey where he also taught youth soccer in his spare time. When he moved to Oklahoma to become a systems engineer for the world's largest aerospace company, he told his parents he wanted to do something meaningful with his life. Andy's most recent work was on Boeing's E-3 Sentry, an airborne early warning and control aircraft.

After his unfortunate passing at the age of 29, his family felt the best way to honor him was through a memorial fund at Stark Community Foundation that could support meaningful causes in the community.

"When Andy passed away, we saw how people from all over responded to his passing," said Andy's father, Bob. "We heard from his friends and their families, coaches, teammates and colleagues, and learned all the different ways people knew and were impacted by him. We thought 'what better way to honor him than by helping others?'"

The Andrew Hoffman Memorial Fund was established in 2018 and has since provided support to the Stark County Hunger Task Force's Backpack for Kids Program and helped purchase gifts for children in need through A Community Christmas.

"He was a foodie, and he loved kids," said Ellen. "He would have wanted to help kids in his own community who were hungry."

The fund will eventually be passed down to Andy's siblings, Rachel, Christopher and Nicholas, to continue their brother's legacy of making a difference.

"I love knowing that in 20 years from now, Andy can still be helping people through his memorial fund," said Bob.

Ellen added, "As much as his fund helps people in our community, it helps us too. It helps us keep his memory alive. I know he would be proud. He would be honored."

AFFORDABLE HOUSING FOR A BETTER FUTURE

THE LEGACY OF THE HERITAGE HOUSE

At first glance, Heritage House on High Avenue SW in the City of Canton looks like a 10-story, 100-unit apartment building. However, the building holds so much more meaning after serving our community for more than half a century, thanks to the foresight and passion of a local visionary and eight local churches.

IN THE EARLY 1960S, Henry Timken proposed purchasing a downtown city block, clearing it of structures and establishing a high-rise apartment building in an effort to address a need for senior citizen housing. When he approached Rev. Dr. George E. Parkinson of Christ Presbyterian Church about this idea, they discussed a consortium of downtown Canton churches coming together to make this concept a reality for our community.

In the spirit of collaboration for the common good, this meaningful discussion led to the creation of the Heritage House.

Soon thereafter, Timken Foundation of Canton purchased the land, architectural plans were drawn up and construction followed. Eight downtown Canton churches at the time – Christ Presbyterian, First Baptist, First Christian, Our Savior Methodist, St. John's Roman Catholic, St. Paul's Episcopal, St. Peter's Roman Catholic and Trinity Lutheran – created a corporation and secured a loan from locally-owned banks.

The overarching goals of the Heritage House were to provide decent, affordable housing for middle-income people, help redevelop downtown Canton and provide an ecumenical witness of the various denominations working together for the good of the community.

"Heritage House really did represent a true community effort," said Albert Smith, an elder of Christ Presbyterian Church. "It was eight churches of different denominations and different theologies that came together to provide moderately-priced, safe housing for people in our community."

The first tenants moved into the Heritage House in 1966, and the mortgage was paid in full in 1996. While some reserves were held for future building maintenance and repair, the remaining excess reserves were used to support community initiatives.

"Profits from the building operation have assisted worthwhile community projects, such as building Habitat for Humanity homes," said Gene DeChellis of Basilica of St. John the Baptist. "The eight churches never benefited financially from the Heritage House."

Smith added, "the reserves were used in quite different ways, but it was all about benefiting the City of Canton and its residents."

After more than 50 successful years, representatives of the eight churches carefully considered a change in residential property managers, the commercial housing environment and the situations of the founding churches, and unanimously agreed that selling Heritage House and liquidating the corporation was in the best interest of all parties.

Heritage House was sold to a new owner in 2019, however its legacy of providing affordable housing and supporting the community continues through a new partnership with Stark Community Foundation.

Seven of the eight churches used their proceeds from the sale of the building to establish endowment funds at the Foundation.

Christ Presbyterian Church, St. Paul's Episcopal Church and St. Stephen Martyr Lutheran Church partnered to establish the Heritage House Legacy Fund, which supports affordable housing and other opportunities benefiting the City of Canton in perpetuity.

"Our church's decision had a lot to do with the reputation of Stark Community Foundation," said Smith. "The historical investment returns were good, and the investment opportunities weren't overly risky."

Heritage House proceeds also established the Basilica of St. John the Baptist Endowment Fund, First Baptist Church Community Outreach Charitable Fund, First Christian Church Outreach Ministry Endowment Fund and St. Peter Catholic Church Endowment Fund.

"Our prayer and desire is to use the proceeds we've been blessed with from this endowment fund to pour back into ministry in the downtown and inner-city areas of Canton in an impactful way, which ultimately puts into action our mission of being a church that is Jesus for all people," said Joe Beltz, business and operations director for First Christian Church.

First Baptist's endowment fund recently supported Habitat for Humanity East Central Ohio, Hammer & Nails, Refuge of Hope and Domestic Violence Project.

"Our hope is to see the original intent of that money continue to make an impact with nonprofit ministries in our community that can restore people's hope, health, housing or peace of mind," said Rev. Kevin Thomas of First Baptist.

FUNDING HEALTHIER COMMUNITIES

NORTH CANTON MEDICAL FOUNDATION ENDOWMENT FUND

In December of 1972, North Canton Medical Foundation (NCMF) opened its doors with five physicians who were passionate about making high-quality medical care accessible to our community. The medical practice was modeled after the Mayo Clinic, aiming to put the patients' needs above all else.

OVER THE NEXT 40 YEARS, THE NONPROFIT, MULTI-SPECIALTY, INDEPENDENT MEDICAL PRACTICE GREW INTO ONE OF THE LARGEST IN THE STATE WITH SEVEN OPERATING LOCATIONS IN STARK AND TUSCARAWAS COUNTIES.

When its clinical operations were acquired by Aultman Health Foundation in 2013, NCMF converted into a 501(c)(3) grantmaking foundation. Proceeds from the acquisition enabled NCMF to provide philanthropic support for local health and wellness programs for generations to come.

"Even though we aren't providing direct patient care, we're still staying true to our mission by helping our community's most vulnerable," said Dr. John Humphrey, executive director of NCMF. Humphrey also worked for 35 years as an internal medicine physician for the original practice. "It's important to us that we carry on our original founders' legacy of serving the underserved."

Today, NCMF awards grants to organizations that provide programs or services that will have a positive, sustainable impact on the health of our community. Recent grants have helped train and employ community health workers, supported nutrition education programs, provided medical care to migrant workers and helped ease the burden of cancer patients with gas and grocery gift cards.

Through a collaboration with the family of Ellen Gray, who passed away from melanoma at the young age of 29, NCMF supports and advocates for skin cancer education and awareness programs in our community.

"We've hosted free cancer screenings at Kent State University at Stark and unveiled an interactive community mural in 2019 that brings attention to the importance of loving your own skin," said Julie Elkins, executive assistant and grants coordinator of NCMF.

While battling cancer, Ellen found great solace in painting as a release both mentally and physically from this horrible disease. The 680-square-foot mural in downtown Canton's Arts District is a creative way to use art to educate the community Ellen loved.

NCMF is able to provide financial support to these and other health-focused programs in our community because its charitable dollars are strategically invested for long-term growth in an endowment fund at Stark Community Foundation.

"We wanted to invest our dollars with an organization that would not only help us grow as a foundation, but one that would partner with us to support projects and initiatives in our community," said Humphrey. "It was a win-win."

Most recently, NCMF joined a local philanthropic collaborative led by Stark Community Foundation and the Sisters of Charity Foundation of Canton and mobilized nearly $1.5 million in emergency funding to nonprofits impacted by COVID-19. The collaborative started meeting weekly in March to virtually review grant applications and make immediate decisions about which programs to support.

Through this collaborative, NCMF helped purchase cleaning supplies and hygiene products for high-risk residents, provide childcare for first-responders' children and support Stark County households that suffered a job loss due to the pandemic with rent and mortgage assistance.

"In a time of limited resources, collaboration is key," said Humphrey. "The community really benefits from these types of collaborations."

In addition to philanthropic collaboratives, NCMF reviews grant applications twice a year from 501(c)(3) organizations located within Stark County or surrounding counties including Carroll, Holmes, Tuscarawas and Wayne. Its 20-member board of local physicians, administrators, nurses and residents with a passion for health care reviews grant proposals and makes funding decisions to improve the health and wellness of our community.

"Part of our mission is to provide funds to nonprofits who create innovative projects to help those they serve," said Humphrey. "Our Foundation uses grants to reduce the financial risk and then assists the grantees to help make them successful."

Nearly 50 years later, NCMF continues to embody its original founders' vision by funding healthier communities.
